DETAILED ACTIONResponse to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 03/21/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Kalkhoran et al. discloses a wavelength selective photodetector where in Fig. 1, silicon dioxide insulating layer 102 divides substrate 102 into layer 108 and 110. Insulating layer 102 extends throughout the substrate 106. Kalkhoran et al. fail to disclose the required semiconductor buried oxide insulation thickness. However, Sadana et al. disclose a defect induced buried oxide for throughput SOI where in Fig. 3 and Claims 1, 6 and 15 the required buried oxide thickness is disclosed. Furthermore, Fig. 2 of Kalkhoran et al. disclose the curve graph of thickness of 10 micrometers for the upper Silicon part of 128. Therefore, according to the Kalkhoran et al., the distance between the upper surface of the substrate and the buried insulating layer 102 is more than 10 micrometers.

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-4, 6, 8-12 and 17 allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 18 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kalkhoran et al. (5,726,40) in view of Sadana et al. (6,259,137).

Art Unit: 2826

Regarding Claims 1, 3-5, 7-12 and 17, Kalkhoran et al. discloses a wavelength selective photodetector where in Fig. 1, silicon dioxide insulating layer 102 divides substrate 102 into layer 108 and 110. Insulating layer 102 extends throughout the substrate 106.

Kalkhoran et al. fail to disclose the required semiconductor buried oxide insulation thickness. However, Sadana et al. disclose a defect induced buried oxide for throughput SOI where in Fig. 3 and Claims 1, 6 and 15 the required buried oxide thickness is disclosed.

It would have been obvious to one of having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the required buried oxide thickness in Kalkhoran et al. as taught by Sadana et al. in order to have a semiconductor structure with increased performance.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
